	INSTANT	LATER
material	Lost control of the classes participation at the end of class because I ran through my lesson much faster than planned or anticipated.	Make overflow activities for every unit and run the copies the day before you start a new unit.
rapport with students	Random students keep dropping by my classroom during their lunch brea; this also happens to be my planning period. I'm running behind!	Not such a bad thing. Maybe you fit in at New Kent? What exactly is it that you think you are doing that gets students to visit?
